

Wamberal Public School

"Where the Sea Breaks....."

Aboriginal meaning for Wamberal

*"Now the cliffs are all before me --now, indeed, do I behold,
Shining growths on wild wet hill head, quiet pools of green and gold,
And across the gleaming beaches, O mighty flow and fall
Of the great in-gathering waters thundering under Wamberal."
HENRY KENDALL.*

Wamberal Public School is situated on the Central Coast of New South Wales approximately 90kms north of Sydney. Wamberal is a beachside suburb of Gosford.

The present Wamberal Public School was built on the site in Lea Avenue, Wamberal and commenced operation in January 1981 with an enrolment of 371 children; however the School itself has a much longer history than this.
